

For 25 Years.....

Lucas' Tinted Gloss Paints

Have been the recognized standard for brilliancy, durability and covering capacity, and that record still remains unbroken.

Complete lines of

Raymond's Colors,
Raymond's Oil Stains,
Raymond's Varnishes,
Campbell's Varnish Stains,
Crocket's Preservatives,
Patton's Shingle Stains,
Whiting's Brushes.

ATLANTIC WHITE LEAD,
PURE LINSEED OIL,
PURE TURPENTINE.

MATTHEWS BROS.

320 Lackawanna Avenue.

Fire Sale of Wall Paper..

There still remains a great quantity of most desirable Wall Papers, Shades, Etc., although we have sold an enormous quantity during the past week.

As our new stock for our new store arrives next week, WE WILL SELL OUR PRESENT STOCK AT PRACTICALLY YOUR OWN PRICE THIS WEEK, as it must be disposed of before reopening our former store.

Jacobs & Fasold
505 Linden Street.

Chairs Recaned

Furniture upholstered and repaired. Send postal to 1248 Providence Road. Old Phone, 109-3, Green Ridge.

JAMES PAYNE

City Notes.

D. L. & W. PAYS.—The employees of all the colleges down the valley were paid yesterday, which completes the nine days for the last half of March.

PREPARATORY SERVICE.—Services will be held in the First Presbyterian church this evening, preparatory to the celebration of the Lord's supper on next Sunday morning.

CATHOLIC HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—No meeting of the Catholic Historical society was held last night because of the inclement weather. At next Tuesday night's meeting Mayor James J. O'Neill, of Carbonate, will deliver a lecture on the life of Archbishop Carroll, of Baltimore.

BURGERS COMMITTED.—Magistrate Clinton yesterday morning committed John Schroeder, Fred Schroeder and Edward Stein to the county jail, in default of $500 bail each. These were the three young men caught breaking into Phillips' candy store, on Cedar avenue early yesterday morning by Patrolman Peter Haggerty.

CLASS HONORS.—The class of 1902 distributed this day honors by a vote at a meeting held Monday afternoon. The following were chosen: Class orator, Eliza Powell; prophet, James Davis; Will, Frank O'Reilly; mantle orator, Edwin Butler; history, Louis Redmond; presentation, George Lewis; poet, Ella Walter; song, made by Grace Stackhouse, words by Lella Wood; ruff; president's address, Stephen Davies.

HONORS FOR MAXEY.

Forest City Young Man Winning Fame at Ann Arbor.

The Wolverine, a paper published at the university at Ann Arbor, Mich., contains the following concerning George W. Maxey, of Forest City: "George W. Maxey is the only student of the University of Michigan who has ever succeeded in winning the Chicago Alumni medal for oratory twice during his college course. At the oratorical contest held in University hall, Friday evening, he won first place with comparative ease, the man who won second place being several ranks behind him. Mr. Maxey's subject was 'Webster's Reply to Hayne.' Mr. Kohn, who took second prize, spoke on 'Political Atrium,' and Mr. Uley, who won third place, had for his subject 'Commercialism.' The other speakers were Edward Sonnenschein, Bryant S. Croner and Eugene Marshall.

NEW BUILDING INSPECTOR.

Emory F. Colvin Appointed by Director Wormser Yesterday.

Director of Public Safety F. L. Wormser issued an order yesterday appointing Emory F. Colvin, of 415 Sunset avenue, as building inspector. T. B. Jackson, his predecessor, was paid out of the private purse of F. L. Brown, the superintendent of the bureau of buildings, but a provision for the payment of a salary of $750 per year for the place is made in this year's appropriation ordinance. Mr. Colvin is a capable and experienced man. He was employed as a foreman by John Benore & Sons for fourteen years, and until recently was employed by Washburn, Williams & Co. He assumed office yesterday.

Auction Sale.

On Thursday, April 10, at 9 a. m., to continue until April 12, the contents of the Irving Hotel, consisting of furnishings of 100 bedrooms, recently refurbished; bedroom suites, carpets, iron and brass beds, mattresses, springs, bed linen, linoleum, bar fixtures, chairs, two cash registers, safes, hotel omnibus, miscellaneous household goods.

E. M. Strong, Auctioneer.

CONSERVATORY RECITAL.

It Will Be Given Tomorrow Evening in Guernsey Hall.

The forty-second recital of the Scranton Conservatory of Music, under the direction of J. Alfred Pennington, will be given tomorrow evening in Guernsey hall. The following piano-forte selections comprise the programme:

Ensemble Chas. (four pianos)—Rondo à la Polka, opus 49, No. 1, Low Marzullo, E. flat major, Opus 28, No. 4, Wrede (Genevieve Birgoud, Rowena Hermann, Hazel Hodges, Clara Kaufhold, Bertha Kingsbury, Ruth Tingley, Ethel Watkins, Ethel Young, Katharine James (Hyde Park)).
Valse, G. major, Opus 88, No. 6, Webb Martha Richmond (Green Ridge).
Etude in D minor.
Song, in F major.
Melody, in E major.
Ecclesaire, in A major.
(All from Faellen Fundamental Reader.)
Anna Wahl (Scranton).
Romping in the Field, F major, Schrecker Boat Song, A minor, Opus 88, No. 6, Webb Gavotte, G major.
Selection from Faellen Fundamental Reader—(Will be played in any of the fifteen major keys called for by the audience.)
Melvin Cobbett, Katie Graft, Curtis Larkin, Ethel Yost.
May Bower, Bertha Burgette, Cora Marvel, Florence Nichols.
Playing Tar, G major, Opus 88, No. 6, Webb Anna Davis (Hyde Park).
Eilenreigen, G major.
Waltz, from Faellen Fundamental Reader—(Will be played in any major key.)
Players—Mary Bisheng, Thurlow Brown, Florence Kelly, Edward Kelly, Pearl Pedrick.
Reciters—Other students in Fundamental Training.

Nanna Price (Scranton).
Sonatina in G major, Opus 88, No. 2, Kuhlau Allegro Vivace Assai.
Andante cantabile.
Allegro con spirito.
Miss Lillian Kramer (Tobyhanna).
Idilio, Opus 331.
Berceuse (Chadwick Song).
Albumblatt (Alphon Leau), Opus 66.
Gruetzmacher.
Miss Nellie Schlager (Scranton).
Valse in E flat.
Clara Haas (Scranton).
Last Movement of Concerto in G, Mozart (Orchestral accompaniment arranged for second piano, played by Mr. Pennington).
Miss Hildegarde Conrad (West Pittston).
Impromptu in C sharp minor, Schumann.
Tarentelle in A minor.
Ensemble (four pianos).
Allegro Vivace, from "Honage a Handel".

Miss Clara Browning, Miss Emma Bore, Miss Mabel French, Miss Mary E. Wagenhurst.

Miss Clara Browning, Miss Emma Bore, Miss Mabel French, Miss Mary E. Wagenhurst.

AFTER YEARS OF WAITING

Detectives James O'Brien and Thomas J. Heffernan Are to Get the $1,000 Reward.

"Detectives James O'Brien and Thomas J. Heffernan, of this city, after a wait of nearly fourteen years, are about to receive the reward of $1,000, offered for the arrest of the murderers of J. B. McClure and Hugh Flanagan," says last evening's Wilkes-Barre Times.

"McClure and Flanagan were murdered in October, 1888, by 'Red Nose Mike' and his accomplices, who, driving towards the Lehigh Valley cut-off, back of Miner's Mills, with $16,000, which they had drawn from the Wyoming National bank, of this city, to pay off the laborers engaged in building the road. McClure was the paymaster, and Flanagan, who was an employee of the contractor building the road, was driving the buggy in which the money was being taken to the works."

"Red Nose Mike" and two of his fellow-countrymen, Bevilino and Velala, knowing the men had the money in their possession, lay in wait along the mountain road a few miles back of Miner's Mills, and shot them from ambush. Immediately after the perpetration of the crime, the county commissioners offered the reward, and Messrs. O'Brien and Heffernan finally ran out the clues and caused the arrest of 'Red Nose Mike,' who was tried and executed. The other two men escaped from this country and went where they were later apprehended, tried and sentenced."

"Before the reward could be paid, however, claims were filed by three other detectives, Charles McCadden, William Roberts and James Baines, and the county commissioners refused to pay over any of the money until the courts could decide which of the five claimants were entitled to it."

"The matter was taken before the equity court, and yesterday an opinion was handed down by the court denying the claims of McCadden, Roberts and Baines and ordering the county commissioners to pay the money to O'Brien and Heffernan."

"Red Nose Mike" was executed for the murder in Luzerne county on June 25, 1889.

MORRO WAS ANGRY.

Had Kate Solawitz Arrested and Then Had to Pay Costs.

John Morro, of Bellevue, yesterday caused the arrest of Kate Solawitz, a near neighbor, on the charge of being a common scold. The only evidence introduced at a hearing before Alderman Ruddy was that the woman had been abusive on one occasion while in a state of intoxication.

The alderman accordingly discharged her and placed the costs on Morro, who was about the maddest man within the city limits when he dawned upon him that he had to pay.

SCROFULA.

"Scattered consumption" is a good way of describing this disease. It is in fact a real consumption of the little glands under the skin.

Scott's Emulsion cures it. Scott's Emulsion is good for all kinds of consumption but especially good for scrofula.

It heals the sores—but doesn't stop there for the weakness and loss of flesh is the worst part of scrofula.

Scott's Emulsion feeds and strengthens scrofulous children.

Send for Free Sample. SCOTT'S BOWNE, Chemists, 429 Pearl St., N. Y.

JURY HAS THE MURDER CASE

ARGENTIS, AT ALL EVENTS, WILL NOT HANG.

Judge Edwards Rules That the Evidence Would Not Warrant a Verdict of Murder in the First Degree. Defense Tries to Show That the Accused Was Home in Bed at the Time of the Killing—William Cotton Acquitted of the Charge of Picking a Drunken Man's Pockets.

The case in which John Argentis is charged with the killing of Harry B. Frederick last Christmas night, at a house of ill-fame on Providence road, was given to the jury at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judge Edwards told the jury he would not take the verdict until this morning.

The judge ruled that it was not a first degree case and took from the consideration of the jury this charge of the indictment. The killing was so sudden, he said, that it was unreasonable to find that there had been deliberation and premeditation.

The theory of the defense, as outlined by Mr. Taylor, in his opening address, was that Anna Hewitt, the main witness for the commonwealth, was trying to put the crime on Argentis to shield the real murderer, probably her lover, who may have come in, and, finding her with Frederick, killed him in a fit of jealous rage.

No testimony, however, was offered to develop this theory. The defense contented itself with an effort to save Argentis by proving an alibi, and showing that Annie Hewitt's identification was incorrect.

The last and only witness of yesterday for the commonwealth was Daniel Evans, who was called to corroborate Alderman Fidler and the police as to the manner in which Miss Hewitt identified Argentis at the North Scranton police station.

FOR THE DEFENSE.

The defendant, his boarding boss, Raphael Pastor; the latter's wife, Marie Pastor; and five of their boarders, Joseph Archerri, John Coercel, Joseph Ferresli, Frank Jamborini and Dominick Grecco were the witnesses on whom the defense relied to prove the alibi.

They are testified they lived at 808 Jones street; that on Christmas Day they remained at home drinking; that Argentis went to bed at 10:30 or 11 o'clock that night and did not get up until after daylight the next morning. The boarding boss sought to strengthen the proof that Argentis did not go out during the night by swearing it was his custom to lock all the doors and remove the keys when he retired, and that none of the boarders could leave the house unless they first woke him up and got a door key.

Argentis testified in relation to the identification at the police station, that the Hewitt girl could see him in his cell for fully half an hour before she was called upon to pick him out from a crowd, and also that she could see him when he was being taken from the cell to be placed among the crowd.

In summing up for the defense, Mr. Conways dwelt at length on this latter evidence, arguing that it was reasonable to infer that Annie Hewitt, who was a prisoner and desirous of currying favor with the police, would endeavor to pick out the man the police wanted her to pick out, and that the knowledge she was given that Argentis was a prisoner led her to select him as the man to be identified.

THE CLOSING ARGUMENT.

The clear, straight-forward manner in which Annie Hewitt positively identified the defendant, and the fact that she had no motive, as far as had been shown, in fixing the crime on Argentis, were pointed out by Assistant District Attorney Thomas in his closing address for the prosecution, as being proof of the defendant's guilt.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Edwards declared that the testimony of Annie Hewitt was clear and positive, and added that, while it might be true she was a fallen woman, this fact did not of itself destroy her credibility. The judge also laid some stress on the fact that while there was no motive shown for the crime, there was likewise no motive shown for Annie Hewitt wishing to make a murderer out of the defendant.

The law points presented by the defense were nine in number, and each of them dealt solely with the matter of the defendant being entitled to every benefit arising from reasonable doubt. They were all affirmed.

OTHER CRIMINAL CASES.

William Cotton was placed on trial before Judge Kelly in No. 2, yesterday morning, charged with stealing $60 and a silver watch from John Kinney, a railroad brakeman, while the latter was lying in a drunken stupor on the floor of the back room of "Roxey's" place, on Spruce street, February 13, last.

Kinney got paid the day previous and at night started to make the rounds of the town. Along towards 9 o'clock in the morning he reached "Roxey's" place, and went to sleep in a chair, from which some time afterwards he fell to the floor. He was allowed to lie there until about 8 o'clock in the morning, when the bartender woke him up and made him leave the room. He told the bartender he had been robbed, and didn't have the money or a drink. The bartender gave him a drink, and he left. Later he returned and declared he had been robbed in "Roxey's" place, and that if he did not get his watch and money back, he "would have the place binned."

The principal witness against Cotton was Patrick Minnahan, who was questioning the Jones saloon that morning. He swore positively that he saw Cotton searching the pockets of a man lying on the floor of the back room, about 8 o'clock, and that the man resembled Kinney.

On cross-examination, Minnahan was shown a statement signed by him, setting forth that he had falsified when he told the police magistrate he saw Cotton searching a man in Jones' place on the morning in question, and that he had been induced to this falsity by Ed. Horn.

Minnahan admitted it was his signature that was attached to the statement, but he repudiated the statement, saying he did not remember signing it, and that he must have been drunk or crazy when he did sign it.

Four bartenders, who witnessed the drafting and signing of the statement, testified that Minnahan was perfectly sober and sane when he signed the statement, and that it was made voluntarily, with the expressed purpose of undoing a wrong. The statement was gotten up and signed in "Roxey's" place."

Cotton's defense was an alibi. He swore he missed the 1:30 a. m. Delaware and Hudson train that night, and went to the Columbia with the bartender, John Ferris. He and Ferris swore he went to bed at 2 o'clock and did not get up until 9:30. The bartender and several frequenters of "Roxey's" place testified they did not see Cotton about the place during the period Kinney was there.

Charles Zang and Robert Kennedy gave character testimony for Cotton. Superintendent of Police Day, City Detective Deiter and Officers Perry and Sartor were called to give testimony as to Cotton's bad character. Superintendent Day told, among other things, that Cotton was accused of stealing a watch from John Mack in the back room of "Roxey's" place."

As the summing up for the defense was about to close, there was a disturbance in the rear of the court room. Minnahan, the chief witness for the commonwealth, had become unsteady of mind and body, and began to swear out loud when Attorney Frank Boyle made some slighting references to him. Two court officers carried him out by the head and heels.

Cotton was acquitted in less than half an hour. He was defended by Attorneys Frank E. Boyle and John J. Murphy. Assistant District Attorney Louis Gramer represented the prosecution.

Mary Jane Willis, of Vandling, who was in court last fall, defending a charge of criminal intimacy with a neighbor, Robert Wilson, was defendant yesterday, in a case before Judge Savidge, in which she was charged by Edward Jewell with being a common scold. The jury was out at adjournment time. Attorneys Richard J. Manning, of Susquehanna, and his brother, John J. Manning, of this county, represented the defense. Attorney James M. Walker, who is acting as assistant district attorney this week, and Attorney L. P. Wedeman represented the prosecution.

Ira Bohner, of Olyphant, was returned not guilty of the larceny by baillee of a band horn from Henry Bonn, Jr. In the case of William Snyder, of Petersburg, charged by Carrie Buchner with carrying concealed weapons, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and placed one-third of the costs on the defendant, and two-thirds on the prosecutor.

Lumber Companies Clash.

Sprules Bros. went into equity court yesterday, seeking an injunction restraining the Noy Aug Lumber company from closing up an alley extending from the rear of the plaintiff's lumber yard, on Prescott avenue, to Ridge Row, along the lands of the defendant company.

The plaintiff alleges the alley was laid out and formally dedicated to public use by the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, from which both companies purchased their land, and that the plaintiff company has been using it daily since 1896. Last Thursday, the Noy Aug company built a fence across the alley and placed a pile of lumber adjacent to the fence.

Judge Newcomb granted a preliminary injunction against the blocking of the alley and a rule to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent. It was made returnable Monday, April 14, at 9 o'clock a. m. Walker & Hill represent the plaintiff.

Wants Partnership Dissolved.

Proceedings in equity were begun yesterday by John F. Nolan against Thomas J. Peter and William H. Nolan, to have court dissolve the partnership existing among the four, under the firm name of Nolan Bros., plumbers and gas fitters.

The plaintiff alleges he is excluded from all knowledge and management of the affairs of the partnership; that the defendants are converting its moneys to their own uses, and that although he holds the largest interest in the business, he is debarred any share in its profits.

He asks that the partnership be dissolved and a receiver appointed to wind up its affairs and render an accounting. Judge Newcomb granted a rule to show cause why the prayer should not be granted. It was made returnable Monday, April 14, at 9 o'clock a. m. H. M. Hannah and I. H. Farns represent the plaintiff.

Marriage Licenses.

Thomas Prichard Mayfield
Mary E. Buckingham Mayfield
Harry N. Peters Carbondale
Sarah Davis Carbondale
Samuel Graham Moosic
Lottie Burns Moosic
John E. Davis Scranton
Sarah Slooy Scranton
William Morris Taylor
Catherine Davis Scranton
David G. Williams Buffalo
Jessie A. Phillips Scranton
Michael J. Mahon Olyphant
Katie Ferguson Scranton
Leo D. Gardner Scranton
Gertrude M. Strauser Clifton

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

John McAndrew was yesterday appointed deputy constable of Old Forge borough.

Letters were granted yesterday by Register John A. Erwin, as administrator of the estate of Mark E. Erwin, late of Scranton.

Rule for judgment was made absolute yesterday in two cases in which the New York Mutual Savings and Loan association was plaintiff and George Adams, defendant.

Lawn Fertilizers.

at Clark, florist.

DEEDS OF FOUR MASKED MEN

THREW THE TOWN OF HUDSON INTO EXCITEMENT.

Burglarized the Store of J. M. Stark, in Which the Postoffice Is Located, and Blew Open the Safe—Held Up Rev. Father Spotanski, Who Was Returning from a Sick Call, and Relieved Him of His Money and Valuables—Detectives Are on the Trail of the Burglars.

The daring deeds of four masked men threw Hudson, otherwise known as Mill Creek, into convulsions of excitement yesterday. They burglarized the store of J. M. Stark, in which was the postoffice, and robbed Rev. Father Spotanski, who was returning from a sick call. The burglars and highwaymen were bold and daring, and heavily armed.

There were four men in the party, all masked with handkerchiefs tied across their faces. They secured an entrance to the grocery store of Mr. Stark by cutting out the glass of one of the windows in the front of the store. Two kept guard outside and the other two entered and ransacked the money drawers and desks without finding anything. They then directed their attention to the large safe, bored holes in it and with a charge of nitroglycerine blew it open, shattering the large door and wrecking part of the store.

In the safe were $200 worth of postage stamps and $75 in money, all of which they took, together with some papers they thought might be of value.

PRIEST HELD UP.

Rev. Father Spotanski, pastor of St. Joseph's Polish Catholic church, who lives next to the postoffice, was out on a sick call, and returning to his home, shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning, interrupted the burglars in their work. He had reached the front of the store when two of the masked men sprang upon him and, pointing a revolver at his head, threatened to shoot him if he uttered a word.

The burglars went through his clothes and took $5 in money and all the valuables he had on his person. They then made him sit down on the porch, while they stood guard over him until their accomplices in the store should get the safe open.

The priest was forced to sit on the porch for over a half hour, expecting every moment to be shot through the head. He heard the noise of the explosion and the crash of the wrecked safe in the building and soon after saw the other two masked men emerge with their plunder.

HELD A CONFERENCE.

The robbers held a short conference, apparently debating whether to kill the priest, but finally three of them walked away, leaving one to guard him. After a time he, too, disappeared, and the clergyman was at liberty.

Father Spotanski aroused the neighborhood, and telephoned to Mr. Stark. A search for the burglars was at once begun, but was unsuccessful. Mr. Stark notified the postal authorities and the United States detectives are at work on the case.

The burglars secured most of their tools from George Brooks' blacksmith shop at Miner's Mills, which was broken into earlier in the night.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Green Ridge Wheelmen Elected Officers Last Night.

At the annual meeting of the Green Ridge Wheelmen, held last night, the following officers were elected: President, C. S. Seamans; vice president, J. L. Williams; treasurer, O. W. Payne; recording secretary, Andrew L. Fine; corresponding secretary, J. L. Rowison; librarian, Maurice Shennen; directors, B. W. Bevans, Howard Davis, G. B. Dunn, C. S. Fowler, J. D. Mason, E. L. Merriman, C. H. Pond, Colonel George Sanderson and H. A. VanHorn.

There were a large number of members in attendance, and after the election a luncheon was served.

Auction Sale.

On Thursday, April 10, at 9 a. m., to continue until April 12, the contents of the Irving Hotel, consisting of furnishings of 100 bedrooms, recently refurbished; bedroom suites, carpets, iron and brass beds, mattresses, springs, bed linen, linoleum, bar fixtures, chairs, two cash registers, safes, hotel omnibus, miscellaneous household goods.

E. M. Strong, Auctioneer.

Cooking with Gas

FREE LECTURES.

FOR ONE WEEK, commencing April 14th, MISS EMILY MARION COLLING, will give her lectures and demonstrations, on how well the Gas Range does its work, at our STORE ROOM, No. 128 WASHINGTON AVENUE.

The Scranton Gas & Water Co.

How Many Feet In Your Family

It matters not for we have Shoes for every member of your household.

Our Shoes Are Right

In fit, style, quality and price. If you want correct Footwear, we can give you satisfaction.

All Prices from 10c to $6.

Lewis, Ruddy, Davies & Murphy,

330 Lackawanna Avenue.

Money Saved on Dishes

We can save you money on every purchase. We buy in large quantities—in fact, in bulk—carloads, which, in itself, saves in freight and package equal to the profit of other dealers.

100-Piece Decorated Dinner Sets.....$7.50
10-Piece Decorated Dinner Sets.....2.75
12-Piece Decorated Dinner Sets.....4.50

Our line of Laughlin's Semi-Vitreous China, white ware, has no equal in this or any other country for the price.

China Mall. 134 Wyoming Ave.
GEO. V. MILLAR & CO. Walk in and look around.

FOR BEDS THE BEDDING CO.

We are showing the finest line of Brass Beds ever seen in Scranton. Their finish is perfect. Our Iron Beds cost you about two-thirds what you pay elsewhere.

Scranton Bedding Co.,

F. A. KAISER, Manager.
Lackawanna and Adams Avenues. Both Phones

Men Notice Well Clad Women

They have an eye for it almost as sharp as a woman's. A correctly gowned female figure is a delight to every eye. Love of dress is called vanity. Carelessness in dress is quite another thing, yet love of dress and its consequent vanity is a charm in most women. The way to this charm is low-priced and easy to travel because of this store.

SILKEN WEARABLES

This will be a year for Silk garments, and it may be that the demand will exceed the supply. In the meantime our supply is at its best and equal to the present demand.

SILK STONES

They're the perfect expression of the new styles. Charmingly trimmed and finished; the price what you expect to pay here.

SILK WAISTS

This year there is a distinctiveness to Silk Waists that makes styles hard to copy. There is a character to them that lifts them above the common waists you remember of other years.

Our ready-made Silk Waists offer you a wide choice of styles you can't get made at home, at least, for our price. Moire Waists, Peau de Soie Waists, Taffeta Waists.

SILK SKIRTS

These Silk Separate Dress Skirts are indeed things of beauty. The sheen of their glittering folds and the sound of their tulle sweep will be seen and heard wherever fashion has friends or followers.

Point de Esprit, Silk Drop Skirts, Silk Applique over Lace, Lace Medallions on Silk, Corded Effects, Buttery Effects, Renaissance Stitching, Embroidery in Silk, with Lace Effects, Net Skirts with Chiffon Trimming, and so on through the line.

tells of the assortment.

SILK PETTICOATS